

UPDATE

- Mediterranean Reopening Schedule – Most Mediterranean countries have come out publicly with their plans to reopen in time for tourist season. Here’s a quick synopsis of the most popular ones:
- Croatia – Open.
- Cyprus – Open.
- France – Opening for non-EU tourists June 9.
- Greece – Open
- Italy – Opening within the week, Details expected to drop any day now.
- Montenegro – Open.
- Spain – Plans to open for tourism in June, but a hard date hasn’t been announced. The gov’t is relying on the rollout of the EU’s Green Certificate/Passport.
- Turkey – Open.

U.S. – Updates for CDC Re-arrival testing and Hawaii.

- On Jan. 12, 2021, The US CDC set a order requiring proof of a negative viral COVID-19 test (NAAT/PCR or antigen), or medical proof of recovery, for anyone arriving from a foreign country to the U.S. The order went into effect Jan. 26, 2021 for ALL flights, including private flight and GA aircraft. Key points:
- On March 8, the CDC issued its first set of guidelines on how fully vaccinated people can visit safely with others. The CDC continues to advise against all non-essential travel, but there is no meaningful impact on int'l travel with the release of these guidelines.
 - The U.S. State Department quietly released a buried update allowing NIW waivers to be issued to foreign crew seeking entry to the U.S. for the purposes of training or aircraft pickup, delivery, or maintenance – despite their travel history. Crew must have a B-1/B-2, B-1, or M-1 visa, or visa waiver program to qualify. This is a big one many in the business aviation community have been asking for.
 - All stops in suspended regions, overnight or just tech stops, are treated the same.
- U.S. APIS Update: All GA travelers are now required to provide additional details, including primary phone number and email address, for contact tracing purposes when coming from Guinea or the DROC in response to Ebola. Scheduled airlines have already been doing this. Airport funneling from these destinations is also in effect. While these destinations aren't the most popular for GA travel, it's not unlikely that we could see the APIS data collection portion of this requirement expanded to cover arrivals from more countries (e.g., for contact tracing other diseases). Note that Private and Charter flights will have different processes for complying with this based on how APIS information is currently transmitted for each of these two flight types.
- Applications for signatory carrier status under VWP are still being processed. All U.S.-based operators (including some international companies with U.S. subsidiaries) and non-U.S. commercial operators are eligible to apply. If you are not a signatory carrier and qualify.
- The VIW is another avenue foreign nationals can seek for entry into the U.S. and can be an effective means of entry. Allowed purposes of visit include Business, Education, Training, and Medical. Application for entry is available for the following U.S. AOE: KLAX, KEWR, KDFW, KJFK, and KIAH, as well as through the U.S. Embassy in France and the UK..
- The USSTEP - PROGRAM is an important risk mitigation program that U.S. nationals should be using on every international trip, especially now with COVID. When the first wave hit and we saw the massive wave of lockdowns, this program helped get people on the U.S. Embassy's evacuation list to return home. It has a whole host of other benefits like if you lose your passport or have medical issues, if there is a terrorist incident or civil unrest, etc.

- Advise passengers and crew to continue maintaining a 14-day travel history log of the countries, states, and cities they visit. This is critical for both travel into the U.S., within it, and abroad.
- Hawaii – The pre-arrival testing program began Oct. 15, allowing visitors to bypass quarantine. Read more online. Hawaii has a specific list of approved C19 testing providers and tests that you must use, and this supersedes the CDC pre-testing order. All travelers arriving in Hawaii are still required to have a temperature check and complete a Travel Declaration Form. U.S Presidential Proclamations restricting flights apply. People traveling interisland can find additional information and the interisland limited quarantine request by visiting county webpages. Note that each island has its own requirements and rules, so check beyond the state level. From May 10, individuals who have received all doses of an authorized COVID-19 vaccine will not be required to be tested for COVID-19 or to self-quarantine when they travel from one Hawaii county to another, as long as the trip is made at least 15 days after their last dose. Note: Travel requirements from the mainland remain unchanged.
- Puerto Rico – Open to foreign tourism. Both U.S. and international pax need a COVID-19 test (within 72 hours of travel); otherwise, traveler will be tested on arrival. Complete a digital Travel SAFE Declaration Form and submit at www.travelsafe.pr.gov or www.viajaseguro.pr.gov. Proof of negative COVID test required to avoid quarantine. Crew are exempt.
- USVI – International leisure hotel guests are allowed. U.S Presidential Proclamations restricting flights apply. Since this is a U.S. territory, CDC testing requirements for int'l arrivals do not apply for U.S. citizens. Visit the USVI Travel Screening Portal and fill out the info requested in advance. Additional information and testing requirements available on <https://usviupdate.com/>. Note that testing requirements DO apply to the crew, unless crew is on the ground less than 24 hours.
- Alaska – Alaska's travel mandates and orders are now just travel advisories. Full entry details online.

Canada – No updates.

- Canada has this online tool to help you assess if you can enter the country.
- Airport Funneling in Effect – All international passenger flights, including those from the U.S., are required to enter Canada through one of the following four funneling airports: CYYZ/Toronto, CYVR/Vancouver, CYUL/Montreal, and CYXC/Calgary. Medevac, ferry and crew repatriation flights, cargo-only flights, and tech stops where no passengers disembark are exempt.
- Mandatory 3-Day Quarantine in Gov't Sanctioned Hotel – All air travelers arriving in Canada, with very limited exceptions, must reserve a room in a Government of Canada-approved hotel for three nights at their own cost, and take a COVID-19 molecular test on arrival at their own cost. Travelers will need to book a hotel in the city in which they first arrive in Canada: Vancouver, Calgary, Toronto or Montreal. Bookings can't be made directly with the hotel. Prepare for high call volume.
- Vaccinated Americans and vaccinated Canadians are not exempt from quarantine.
- Canada's airlines have extended their suspension of most flight services to/from Mexico, Costa Rica, and the Caribbean until end of May.
- Authorities in Canada have suspended direct passenger and private flights from India and Pakistan until May 22
- Officials in Canada extended a ban on entry for most nonresident foreign nationals until further notice as part of the measures to curb the spread of coronavirus disease (COVID-19).

- All airline passengers from abroad aged 5 years and over must present a negative PCR test taken up to 72 hours before departure to Canada. Persons with a negative PCR test result and who are authorized to enter Canada must still complete the mandatory 14-day self-quarantine.
- As of Nov. 21, travelers will be required to submit contact and quarantine information via ArriveCAN app. Fines of $1,000 CAD may be placed upon any traveler for not complying.
- Restrictions on non-essential travel for USA/Canada/ Mexico remain in place until May 21, 2021. CANPASS / CBSA (CANADA) is by far the most stringent enforcer of this policy in regards to air travel.
- Flights from the U.S. are being allowed on a case-by-case basis. Some are getting through without issue; others are getting denied. Canada is very strict on vetting "essential" vs. "non-essential" travel between the U.S. and Canada. Best practice is to gather all relevant documentation (e.g., travel history, medical declarations, purpose of flight, etc.) and seek approval from CANPASS well in advance. Canada is still restricting entry to 4 ports. Consult with us for any planned mission.
- Note that Canada has very strict quarantine requirements for anyone entering the country.

Mexico – No changes.

- Mexico is open and accessible. Popular tourist destinations like Los Cabos, Cozumel, PV, and Cancun are active with flights.
- AFAC remains closed but is processing AOC renewals and modifications, one time permits, blanket permit modifications, and blanket permit verifications remotely/online. Note that AFAC is working under reduced staffing hours, so application processing will take longer than normal. For assistance with your Mexico permits,
- There is a no-touch Covid-19 health assessment form, which is required on arrival/departure. After completing the form, print or screen cap the QR code that is generated for easy access. You'll need to present this to the health inspectors upon arrival into Mexico. Here is the link: <https://afac.hostingerapp.com> - Note that you need to actually copy/paste it into your browser; just clicking it will throw an error. A 14-day quarantine at residence may be necessary; however, popular tourist zones in the typical vacation cities (e.g., Cancun, Los Cabos, PV, Cozumel) are excluded.
- Restrictions on non-essential travel for USA/Canada/ Mexico land borders remain in place until May 21, 2021.
- The Mexican government has established an epidemiological traffic light monitoring system based on the number of cases and risk of contagion to manage the relaxing of restrictions. The status of it varies from state to state.

Caribbean – Various updates.

- Anguilla – All ports are closed to incoming passengers until May 25.
- Antigua and Barbuda – Open to most travelers. Requires approval before operating. See official website for details on access to tourist zones and when quarantine comes into play.
- Aruba – Aruba is accepting flights from all U.S. states. Aruba's Digital Embarkation-Disembarkation Card (ED card) and health insurance are required.

- Suriname – Flights require government approval. Health insurance required.
- Venezuela – Accessible with approval from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. Quarantine at government facility required.

Europe – Various updates.

- Golden Visa Countries – Portugal, Cyprus, Malta, Greece, Spain and Ireland have golden visa programs that grant real estate owners and their families citizenship or residency status. For instance, Portugal requires a 500K Euro investment to qualify for citizenship, and having citizenship means other EU countries become accessible. Many aircraft owners and charter passengers are leveraging these programs.
- Distant Lover Exemptions – A number of European countries had exemptions allowing unmarried partners to enter; however, those exemptions have changed in response to recent surges. Love Is Not Tourism is tracking these.
- European countries that are accessible to passengers from the U.S. and other countries not on the EC's list include:
 - Albania – Open. No quarantine, except if originating from Greece or North Macedonia.
 - Austria – U.S. citizens with a business purpose are allowed entry directly. Or, U.S. citizens can enter via intra-Schengen without restrictions. Only business travelers are allowed to stay in hotels. On May 19, hotels, restaurants, leisure and culture facilities will be allowed to reopen with strict protective measures in place.
 - Belarus – Accessible. Travelers from this list of countries will likely have to self-quarantine.
 - Belgium – Authorized travel is only possible upon presentation of a certificate issued by the employer and a certificate issued by the Belgian diplomatic or consular post, if it's demonstrated that the trip is essential.
 - Bosnia and Herzegovina – U.S. citizens are allowed entry with an invitation letter.

 - Denmark – Immunized citizens of orange and yellow countries will be allowed to travel to Denmark without restrictions (U.S. on the orange list.).
 - France – Opening for tourism for non-EU citizens June 9. Effective Jan 31, France has suspended travel from and to countries outside the EU. Passenger locator form, sworn statement, and 7 days self-isolation are still required. Alternate entry options are below. An Exemption Certificate is required to be out during curfew.
 - Closed – European Area Corridor Access –

Europe - continued

The French government has issued this notice that travelers from the Ireland and other European Area (EA) countries who have been in a non-EA country within the previous 14 days must follow procedures applicable to arrivals from non EA countries. While this is not reflected in the NOTAM for France, it shuts the door on doing the overnight in Ireland or another EA country to access France.

- Direct Access - U.S. passengers traveling directly to France must present a permit issued by the French Embassy or General French Consulate to enter French territory.
- Germany - Business purpose travel remains possible with preapproval. Lockdown measures extended through May 12.
- Greece - Open to U.S. travelers that are vaccinated OR those who have a negative PCR test result taken 72 hours before arrival. PLF form needs to be filled out at least 24 hours prior to arrival. Be sure to submit your parking requests ASAP for best options during Mediterranean summer peak season.
- Hungary - U.S. persons can travel to Hungary for essential business. An invitation letter from the receiving party should be submitted in advance for approval. All U.S. passengers approved in for essential business don't require COVID testing or quarantine.
 - Fully-vaccinated travelers can avoid the mandatory hotel quarantine requirement (see below). Quarantine at home still required. Full details online. Authorities plan to ease some domestic restrictions starting May 10.
 - Anyone entering the country from the U.S. or Canada, or has recently visited or transited either, is required to complete a 10-14 day hotel quarantine. Quarantining for just length of stay (e.g., 2 nights) is not an option. You're stuck. Crew are exempt from this new requirement.
 - This pre-departure testing provider is available at EIDW for travelers headed to the U.S.
 - U.S. CBP Preclearance is open at Shannon/EINN for GA; however, hours have changed again.
 - Shannon has an onsite COVID testing program providing quick turnaround. Appointments are required and can be booked online at <https://roccohealthcheck.ie>.

- UK - Accessible, but National Lockdown in effect. See section below for more details.
- Rest of Europe - Most EU countries are allowing essential business travel (for instance, your principal is considering investing in a European business), so if you can state your case, there may be a way in
- UK -
 - Lockdown - The UK remains under national lockdown but have eased some domestic restrictions effective May 03 and are expected to further ease on May 17. Lockdown does not restrict entry, but it limits local movement and services.
 - Jail time - The UK is imposing jail time of up to 10 years for travelers who lie about their travel history.
 - UK Travel Bans - Many countries are restricting passengers from the UK in response to the new mutant COVID strain.

- Testing & Quarantine - The UK announced that all international arrivals, including UK nationals, are now required to present a negative COVID test taken up to 72 hours prior to departure. You'll also need to prebook mandatory in-country testing prior to entry.
- UK Red List - See UK's current travel ban on "red" countries.
- New UK entry requirements effective May 17 - The UK will have new entry regulations effective May 17. If you come from a country on the green list and haven't been to a red or amber country in the preceding 10-day period, then no quarantine is needed. Testing still required. The U.S. is currently on the amber list, which means a 10-day quarantine unless you pay to test out early after day 5.
- Crew on international arrivals will need to take (and retake) LFD tests for stays of more than 2 days to avoid quarantine.
